

Cupboard to Creativity 2021

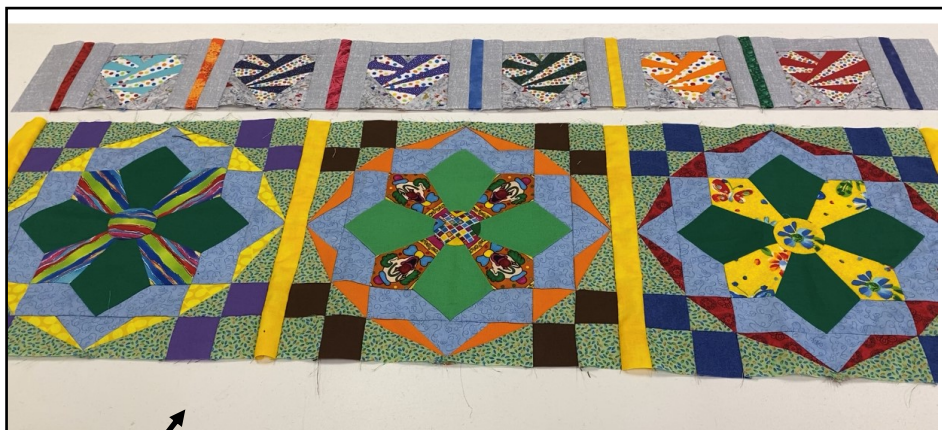

March Update.

Hi Everyone,

I hope you are enjoying playing along with the Row by Row challenge.

For March on my grey quilt I chose the heart part of the theme and decided on a foundation pieced row of hearts.

The page was a free "Candy Box" download from the internet that was 6" and I resized it to be 4" as this suited my scraps better. I once again used the left overs from someone else's project in class for the spots & some of the colours, and used some of the grey fleck fabric from the first row as the heart background, introducing another plainer grey to build out the blocks.

The second row here is for the other quilt of more traditional blocks.

This block is called "Heart's Desire" or "Little Giant" I used the templates from a magazine for the far right block then created a foundation pieced section for the outer edge section and made the other two blocks.

For these blocks I kept the leaf background fabric & the light blue framing fabric common.

Have a lovey Easter & I will check in again at the end of April

Have fun quilting this month.

Jan P
