June 2021 - Row by Row Quilt

Theme this month: Disappearing Blocks

Hi Everyone,

For this month's theme I thought we might explore some of the "disappearing" blocks that have become popular.

You can choose the block you start with—typically a nine patch or four patch (the colouring of the block can make a huge difference to the final outcome

Nine patch

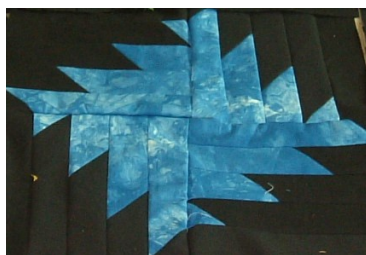

Four patch

Cut through the blocks to then re-configure the parts and re join to form the new block. There are different arrangements for each block style your start with.

What happens when you start with an hour glass block, or pinwheel block? Have fun exploring.

What did this block start as?

This is part of one of my re-cut diamond quilts.

To make as part of a row by row quilt you may need to look at some of the smaller measurements when you start unless you are making a large quilt.

Have fun playing with the recut block idea to create your own Disappearing block style.

I look forward to see your results.
