Oct 2020 - "Connection"

Hi Everyone,

With Spring well under way as we say farewell to September for another year, I wonder how you are all going in what is a very different and challenging year for many.

For October I have chosen a different challenge for this month's border.

"Connection" allows us to reflect on how we are all connected to each other and to our natural world. You may have a very different interpretation and that is OK too:)

To interpret this into a border could mean using blocks that are inter linked in some way, whether that be in the design as a link feature, or by a colour scheme that connects different parts around the border.

It could be that you choose fabrics by a theme that links them, or it may be that you create a border that links you in some way to the quilt and the person it is for —this may be more a memory quilt idea where the fabric or pattern reminds you of a special memory.

Stretch your imagination and see how you can represent "Connection" in your next border.

Here are a few ideas I found to start you off, some more traditional, and some more modern.

Enjoy creating your next border with "Connection" as your focus.

Wishing you a month that brings you joy and wellness in your life.

Have fun.
