

Cupboard to Creativity Nov Update 2024

Hi Everyone,

The end of the year is fast approaching, and there are more things that demand our time, so I hope you have had the chance to work on the November block challenge.

It has been lovely seeing some of the projects come together, and it is always interesting to see the different way a block can appear when the fabrics and scale changes.

If you have been playing along, please remember to send me photos of what you are doing—I love to see & read about how you have used the challenge.

Even though this month I started Xmas breakup lunches, Peter & I have been busy with selling a property, and we have had a lovely week with family visiting, I was very happy that I could still fit in a quilt retreat at the beginning of the month.

On retreat I was able to get 9 blocks made for the challenge plus the bonus stars — there are still more to do though, and I hope that will happen during December.

Below are my Nov blocks, all made in Batik fabric.

I hope you had fun playing along.

Jan P.
