Wedding ring styles

Hi Everyone,

For November, I have a couple of projects that I want to work on to try to complete and they are wedding ring style projects, so for this month I thought that would a place to play. Have you already got a pattern in an old magazine?

Wedding ring quilts are very traditional and can be made in a variety of methods - 1. using templates (paper ones you can create or purchased rotary cutting style are available); or paper foundation piecing.

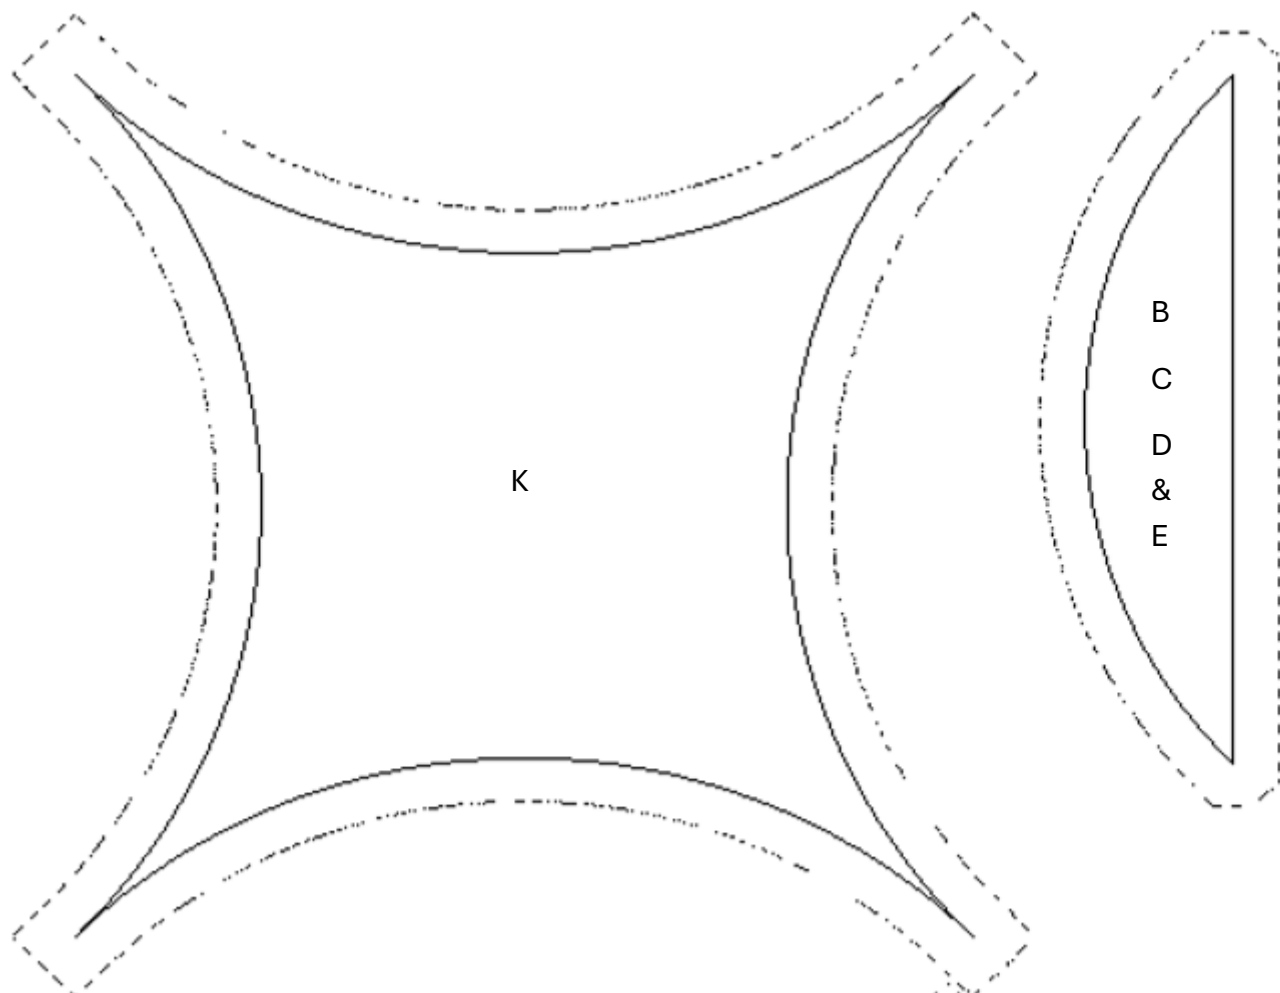

2. As shown below, the design can have a single fabric ring colour with or without secondary colours at the intersection, or arcs that are multi coloured. You could make a small quilt or cushion, or a full quilt.

For the single coloured arc on a single background you would need to calculate your yardage, however if you are using your stash, the scrap version of the arcs would suit. If you are feeling very creative, you could try using the basic shapes of the wedding ring quilt but change it up with your own additions - have the centres in different colours; create a different design in the centre or the arcs centre.

Maybe your challenge will be to try a modern version of this design.

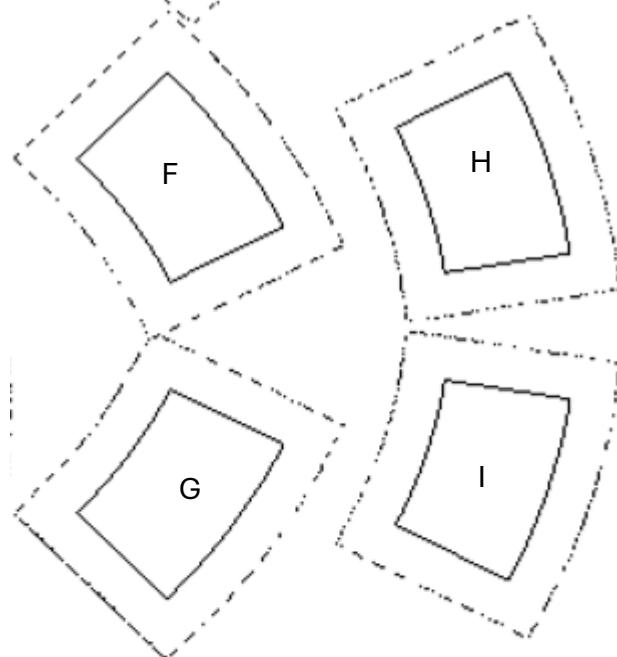

On the next few pages I have included templates & pattern for a 6" finished blocks. To make this into a 9" size, so you would need to print at 150%, or 12" at 200%.

For this design use 7 colours for the arcs (pieces F, G, H, I, J), or a scrap look with 2 different ends colours (piece A) to create a 4 patch or pinwheel when constructed,

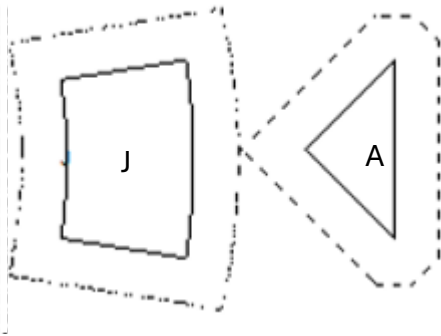

Use the diagram below to enlarge to the size you wish to create your blocks, then create templates and a foundation strip (for the arcs) then add your seam allowance.

You will need the triangle section for the other arc to make a square repeatable block, or if you prefer, use the same full centre design shape shown on the diagram on the next page to create your block template and have less seams

Templates for 6" Wedding Ring

The Quilts below show 7 colours & pinwheel on first one, the second one shows 7 colours & the 4 patch look.

Note the arc section in photo 1 have different colour each end, photo 2 same colour but create 2 different sets - brown across, gold up & down

← This quilt shows the 2 arcs of 5 colours forming the melon shape, and triangles shapes to complete the square block

This quilt also shows more square shapes forming the ends as the 4 patch.

There are many variations to this theme, so have fun exploring your options.

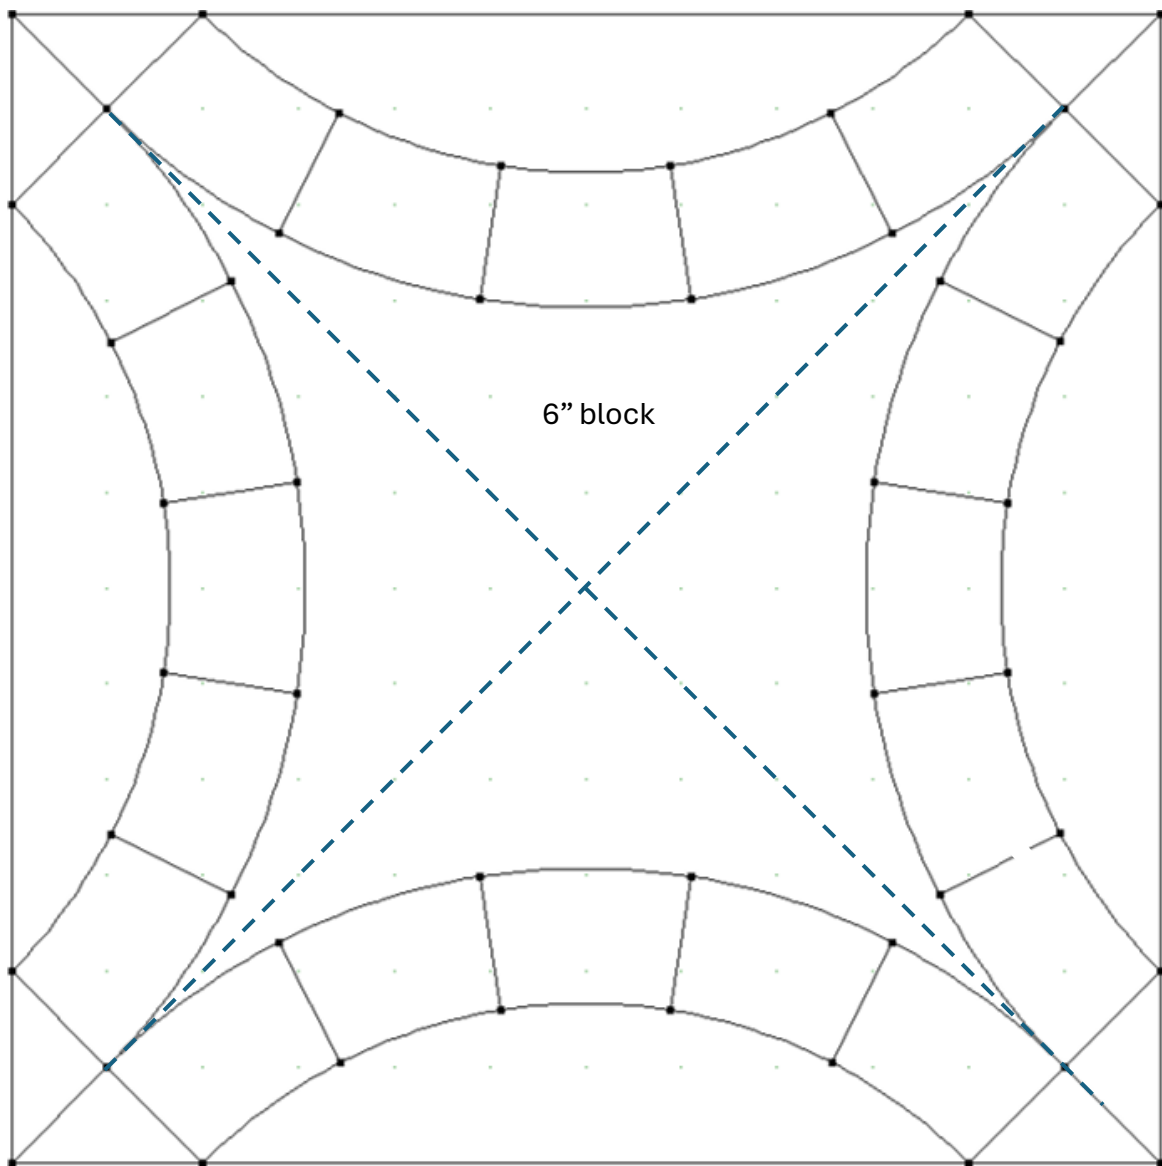

Have Fun... Jan P

6" Wedding Ring

Use this design page to print and upscale to the size you want your blocks to be - this will be a 5 coloured arc and will create a centre square at the end of the arcs when constructed.

From the new size create a template for the centre as one piece, or bring 2 or 4 colours into the centre using the dotted line shape - add the $\frac{1}{4}$ " seam allowances.

Create the template for the side sections as shown for a square block, or eliminate and cut the straight edge on a fold so you can sew 2 arcs to the melon shape, then add them to the centre shapes.
